At the very tip of Hawksbill Marina, where Turtle Tail meets the open South Side, sits the pinnacle of Hawksbill. Defined not by size, but by position, this front parcel occupies one of the most forward oceanfront locations in the enclave. Set on 0.73 acres with 356 feet of direct ocean frontage, it offers exceptional waterfront value measured in frontage rather than merely acreage. Waterfront is rare, and parcels with this degree of frontage and openness are rarer still. This isn't about scale, it's about placement, a singular site for a focused architectural vision set directly above the iron shore. The land is substantial enough to support a trophy oceanfront residence, designed around uninterrupted views and a life lived on the water. Hawksbill is quiet, established, and deliberately low density, where water isn't just the view, it's the setting. For those seeking a larger footprint, an adjacent marina site within Hawksbill is also available, offering the option of a private marina slip to accompany an oceanfront residence.
